TREK TO CALIFORNIA.

Prominent Chicagoans leave Windy City for Sunshine of the Golden State.

HOAX IS 'GIGANTIC.'

Bogus Belle Elmore to Be Produced.

Attorneys of Chicago and Philadelphia Believed to Be Involved.

Succeed in Getting Execution of Crippen Put Off for Two Weeks.

Admissions Made by Pair in Windy City Lead to Suspicion of Plot.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Attorney "Bob" Cantwell and "Jack" Curry, athletic promoter, today reluctantly admitted being interested with Attorney F. T. Tobin of Philadelphia in the "production" of "Belle Elmore" and the saving of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen from the gallows.

There are indications that "Belle's" father, a Philadelphia sporting man, was scheduled to share in the financial result of the woman's return.

During a long interview "Cantwell" temporarily disclaimed all responsibility for the "coming appearance" of the woman, and thoughtfully said: "I spoke to me about getting off such a stunt soon after his return from abroad."

Cantwell then denied knowing Attorney Tobin but later admitted the reporter that Tobin had "been endeavoring to prove that Belle Elmore is alive."

Cantwell's remark reminded the reporter of a story that he had heard in London of a couple of men who were in the effort to get a woman named Elmore to "produce" a play.

Curry has again been in Cantwell's office in the Hartford building. The two have many interests in common. Curry is the American manager of Hackenschmidt, the wrestler.

"Did you interest yourself in the Crippen case when you were abroad?" innocently asked the reporter. "Yes, I did, and I am much convinced that over that Dr. Crippen is innocent," replied Curry.

"I was there and know what I am talking about when I say that I fully believe 26,000 people around the New Street Jail (Scotland Yard) when Dr. Crippen and Ethel Leane were brought back. Now, I don't know Belle Elmore personally, but Hackenschmidt knows her well. He played in the same house with her on numerous occasions. Say, don't you want to interview Hackenschmidt about it?"

MODERATE RETIRING. "What about this latest yarn that she is alive in Chicago?" asked the reporter. "I believe that's the truth, and that she will be produced at the theater," he said. "I don't know if it is funny or not, but wouldn't it be funny if she turned up? I'll give you the names of several old-time booking agents who used to do business with her if you care to go around to interview them."

"Tell me where she is, and I'll get one of our photographers to take her picture," suggested the reporter. "No, she's not ready for that yet. She's too modest and retiring for any stunt like that," answered Curry.

At this juncture one of the woman's retainers of the office arrived with the "gigantic" reporter to take her picture, and the latter entered with a serious expression.

WELL-PRIMED. He then broke into conversation with the following words: "The American court does not admit that would sustain the case against Dr. Crippen on the evidence adduced at the trial. The corpus delicti never was established. Crippen's flight is no evidence of guilt. Where there are two hypotheses in circumstantial evidence the court must respect itself to the one of innocence absolutely."

"You must have looked that up a couple of days ago," interrupted Curry. "No, I have had that in my 'nut' right along," replied Cantwell. "If any person should produce a...

DIX AND HARMON LOOK LIKE NEXT GOVERNORS.

Indications Also Point to Retirement of Senator Beveridge in Indiana.

Democrats Appear, From Unbiased Canvass, to Be Leading in Ohio, New York, Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey—Illinois Is Safely Republican and Speaker Cannon Will Be Re-elected—Iowa Fight.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Unbiased forecasts on the general political results tomorrow, based on the best information obtainable from East and West here tonight, are that Col. John A. Dix will carry New York State for Governor over Henry L. Stimson by at least 50,000 plurality.

That Ohio will go for Judson Harmon for Governor by a plurality as large, if not larger, than that of two years ago.

That Indiana Democrats will control the next Legislature by a majority of twelve to twenty on joint ballot, and Senator Beveridge will be retired to private life.

That Illinois will go Republican by 20,000 to 40,000; that Cook county is in doubt, with the chances in favor of the Democrats on net results; that the Legislature will continue to be in control of the Republicans; that Speaker Cannon will be re-elected in the Danville district by a good plurality over W. L. Cundiff, Democratic candidate, and that the Democrats are likely to gain from one to three representatives in Congress.

BALDWIN WILL PROBABLY WIN. That Judge Baldwin, Democrat, will be elected Governor of Connecticut.

That Woodrow Wilson will be chosen Governor of New Jersey.

The result in the Governorship in Massachusetts is in doubt as between Gov. Draper, candidate for re-election the third time, and Congressman Eugene Foss, who at a special election in the Fourteenth Congressional District several months ago overturned a normal Republican majority of several thousand by a majority of 560.

That Wisconsin will elect Francis E. McGovern, Republican and a La Follette man. Governor; that Victor L. Berger will be elected Congressman by the Socialists in the Fifth or Milwaukee District over Representative Stanford, and there is a chance that the Socialist candidate in the Fourth, also a Milwaukee district, will defeat Representative Cary, a Republican.

The Legislature will be strongly Republican in both branches, insuring the re-election of Robert M. La Follette United States Senator.

That Michigan will elect Chase S. Osborn Governor by greatly reduced pluralities from the Presidential vote of two years ago and choose a Republican Legislature which will send Representative Townsend to the United States Senate in place of Julius Caesar Burrows. There is a chance that Edwin Denby will be beaten for Congress in the First District by Frank L. DeRemus, Democrat.

IOWA IS INTERESTING. The factional difficulties in Iowa make the situation on the eve of election interesting at least. The chances are that Gov. Carroll, Republican, will be re-elected, although the Democrats count on enough defection to defeat him, and that the Legislature, which will choose a successor to the late Senator Dolliver, will be Republican.

Gov. W. R. Stubbs is slated for re-election in Kansas by 20,000, and the Republicans are likely to retain the seats in Congress they now hold with one exception or possibly two.

Nebraska has a desperately close contest on the Governorship and in the last days of the campaign the Legislative fight involving the election of a successor to Senator Burkett has become decidedly interesting with both sides making claims of victory.

The fact that Bryan is against Dahlen, Democratic candidate for Governor, is believed to give a shade the better of it to the Republican candidate for Governor, Chester H. Smith. The situation also is badly complicated by the liquor question.

Minnesota will elect A. O. Eberhart, Republican, Governor, and the Legislature will continue to be strongly Republican, insuring the re-election of United States Senator Clapp, insurance. The Republicans may lose one or two Congressmen.

California is in the doubtful column. This completes the list of States in which the greatest interest has been taken.

"TO A FRAZZLE," SAYS COL. ROOSEVELT, AGAIN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Predicting the election of Henry L. Stimson, Theodore Roosevelt tonight completed his campaign for the Republican party, which has extended over a month, and carried him into New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Connecticut.

The colonel delivered two speeches this afternoon and six tonight, not counting an address before a birthday dinner given in his honor by the Hungarian Republican Club, and a campaign speech in behalf of Representative W. W. Cocks, at Astoria, L. I.

"We are going to knock them through the ropes," was the way Col. Roosevelt put it in his speech today. He continued his attack on John A. Dix and at times switched his fire to Mr. Dix's associates on the Democratic ticket.

"I ask you to look at what Mr. Dix's supporter, the Evening Post, says of Mr. Dix's colleagues," said he. "Dix says he wants to 'turn the calcium light of publicity' on the

ENGINEERS THREATEN A GIGANTIC STRIKE.

Object to Caring for Locomotives Before and After Runs and Want Big Increase in Pay---Sixty-One Roads From Chicago to Coast Affected.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A strike vote will be taken by the engineers of sixty-one roads west, south and north of Chicago, following the termination today of negotiations between the roads and grand officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which had been under consideration since September 28.

Wage increases of approximately 7 per cent, and alteration of working condition stood between the negotiators.

Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood, said today he believed the strike would be unanimously in favor of suspension of work and that the engineers would have expressed their desire by December 15 immediately thereafter he said a last opportunity would be given the roads to meet the workers and if they ignored that opportunity within five hours every engine west of Chicago would be stilled, the fire drawn and out of the thousands of cars would step every driver on duty.

LIST OF CONFEREES. The representatives of the engineers in the twenty-five conferences which ended today, were: Warren S. Stone, grand chief; Ash Kennedy, F. A. Bateman, E. Corrigan, M. W. Cagle and H. E. Willis, assistant grand chiefs, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

They received the advice of fifty division managers of the Brotherhood, who represented the smaller councils of the order.

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT. The general working conditions of which the engineers complain, include the following: Drivers of the Mallet compound engines, which do practically the work of two engines, and entail a corresponding responsibility and capability, receive the same wages as drivers of engines of much smaller capacity.

Engineers wish to be relieved of the task of preparing their engines for travel and of caring for them after runs.

They also ask that switching time be paid for on a different basis. The magnitude of the wage question is evidenced by a statement of the employees that the 7 per cent. wage difference now standing between the drivers and the railroads means approximately $2,000,000 a year. The cost of altering working conditions would be less than $600,000, it is asserted.

"When the conference began," said Chairman W. B. Scott, of the conference committee, "the engineers' demands approximated a 27 per cent. increase. This finally was brought down to 11 per cent. We finally agreed to a 10 per cent. increase, totalling

OFFICERS ARREST OHIO BAD MAN.

TAKE QUARRY BEFORE HE CAN PULL WEAPON.

Highwayman Wanted at Cleveland for Murder is Apprehended at San Francisco When About to Ship on Vessel Bound for Australia—Makes Confession.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—While making his way to the water front to ship as a seaman on a bark sailing tomorrow for Australia, Earl Pender, wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Walter Raymer of Cleveland, O., was seized from behind by two detectives today before he had time to draw his revolver. Later he admitted that he would have related to death if given the chance.

To the detectives Pender related at length the details of the hold-up which resulted in the death of Mrs. Raymer. He denied that he fired the fatal shot.

He said that he and William Van Gelder had stopped a vegetable wagon, the driver of which struck Van Gelder over the head with his whip. Van Gelder then shot the driver, but the driver was not killed.

While this was transpiring Raymer and his wife drove up from behind, and as they were turning, according to Pender, his companion, enraged at the escape of the first driver, fired blindly at the Raymers.

Pender said that he heard a groan but did not know of Mrs. Raymer's death until the next day.

JURY TO PASS ON ACT.

Young Woman Will Do Vaudeville Stunt in Alleged Incident.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. (Exclusive Dispatch.) Miss Sophie Tucker, comedian and comedienne, purposes to introduce vaudeville in the Portland Police Court next Wednesday, when she is to be tried on a charge of having sung indecent songs at a local theater last week.

Arraigned today on a charge preferred by Mrs. Lela G. Baldwin of the Department of Public Safety for Women, Miss Tucker demanded a jury trial. "We purpose your honor," said Miss Tucker's attorney, "to demonstrate before a fair jury that the act given by Miss Tucker was in no manner objectionable. This we shall do by repeating the act in court."

Miss Tucker was arrested on order of District Attorney Cameron, after Mrs. Baldwin had tried in vain to get action through the police department. Chief Cox and an officer attended a performance and declared it seemed all right to them. District Attorney Cameron and Mrs. Baldwin, however, declared they were scandalized by what they heard and saw.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. (Exclusive Dispatch.) After having imposed on patients and the public by his bogus medical practice, Edward Martin, who was employed as porter at the County and Railroad Hospital is missing and the authorities are searching for him.

Martin, while acting as porter, posed as Dr. E. de Martini and had many patients, among whom were several who were treated surgically. One of the surgical feats he attempted to perform was to knit a patient's fractured ribs by applying a porous plaster.

Martin had no license and several of his patients are now seeking him to get back money he secured from them. He got from two or three $10 for patching broken ribs with porous plaster.

Realty Man Pays Record Price for Orange Land in the San Joaquin Valley.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.) LINDSAY, Nov. 7.—A record price for orange land in this section was established here late last week, when C. W. Tothacore, a Palo Alto resident, sold his six-acre grove, just at the north city limits, for $120,000 cash.

The new owner of the place is J. D. Wilson, a realty operator of Los Angeles, who purchased for his personal use. The sum of $120,000 per acre is the largest price which has been paid for orange land, this place being practically unimproved, as regards dwelling or other building.

Mr. Wilson plans to erect a residence here and spend part of the year in Lindsay.

Relative Tails Court That David F. Walker's Widow Has Securities on Auto Trip.

(Associated Press Night Report.) SALT LAKE, Nov. 7.—According to an affidavit filed in the Federal Court here today, there is $1,000,000 worth of securities in the automobile on route from here to Seattle.

In the automobile are Mrs. Althea Walker, widow of David F. Walker; her two children, Clarence and Margaret; Smoot Walker, a chauffeur; Mrs. Sarah A. Paul, daughter of the late San Mateo millionaire; the affiant. After her father's death she contested the will, which left most of the estate to the widow, on the ground of undue influence exercised through pretended power of clairvoyance.

The court was asked to enjoin Mrs. Walker and her children from removing the automobile from this jurisdiction. An order to this effect was issued and served on two of the defendants. Charles Walker could not be found. Later it was reported that the automobile party had passed through Pocatello, Idaho, en route to Seattle.

Mrs. Paul's affidavit, Judge Marshall cited the widow and children to appear within ten days and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt.

What The Governor Read

The last annual report of the Building and Loan Associations of this State was submitted to Governor Gillett under date of Sept. 12, 1910. It calls particular attention to the excellent methods, and the benefits to be derived from Building and Loan Associations, and emphatically states that:

"There is no class of financial institution that is more deserving of public confidence and patronage."

The State Mutual is the largest Building and Loan Association in the State. Organized 21 years ago, it has grown steadily and consistently without once having failed to meet every obligation when due.

REASON FOR RATE RAISE.

The wage increase demand of the engineers was referred to by representatives of the railroads before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Chicago recently as one of the reasons why higher freight rates ought to be charged by the railroads.

At that time Vice-President Park of the Illinois Central, and other officials told the committee there was little doubt some increase would have to be granted and he advised the committee, as did representatives of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and the Chicago & Northwestern, that the increase would cut out of the road's surplus unless higher rates could be charged.

In view of this, the sudden cessation of conferences between the engineers and the roads today caused considerable surprise. Since before the Interstate Commerce Commission the railroads have been in a state of confusion.

LOS ANGELES
GROWS FAST.Two Hundred Per Cent. Increase Predicted.Federal Census Director Says
Count Is Accurate.San Francisco's Figures to Be Shorn.(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The census figures for Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland are ready to be given out, and it is expected that they will be made public Thursday morning.

Director of the Census Bureau said today that there had been no fraud in the census taking, although there had been some errors of judgment, in San Francisco mainly, with regard to persons who were in Alaska, so that a few thousand names had been stricken off the census roll.

There is no blame attached to any one, and it is not believed that there was any wrong intention. The census work for the three cities named has been very good, the director says.

With no official statements to be obtained, it is believed that Los Angeles will show a growth of 200 per cent. in the past ten years, which would give it a population now considerably in excess of 500,000.

The figures will carry weight, the director says that he found no evidence that in Los Angeles the enumerators revisited hotels and lodging houses and such places, to count transients. He will back his figures for Los Angeles as substantially correct.

The prospect is that the census will show a population in excess of 500,000 but not over 550,000, while Oakland is likely to be credited with a population of about 125,000, or approximately 100 per cent. increase since the last census.

River Claims.(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—After hearing the case argued twice, the Supreme Court of the United States decided today that the Federal Court of Nevada should proceed to adjudicate river claims to the use of the waters of the Walker River, flowing from California into Nevada.

This decision was based on the conclusion that, although the State of California had concurrent jurisdiction over the questions in dispute, the Federal Court, having first taken jurisdiction, should retain it.

The litigation was begun in 1902 by Miller and Lux, a California corporation, possessing land in Nevada along the river. They asked for an injunction from the Circuit Court to restrain Thomas CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Finger prints were admitted in evidence in a criminal court yesterday for the first time in the world in an effort to send a man being to the gallows.

Experts summoned from Canada, New York and authorities from Chicago testified that between the finger prints of Thomas Jennings, a negro, and two finger prints left in wet paint of the house of the late Clarence Miller, who was murdered by a burglar on September 18, there were thirty-three points of identity.

Although the accused negro's attorney fought desperately against the introduction of this novel evidence, Judge Karanag said that it was undoubtedly competent evidence, and he himself stood in the jury box while the experts pointed out to the jurors the telltale similarities.

Two greatly enlarged photographs were exhibited. One of these was an impression of the left hand of Thomas Jennings, taken since his arrest on the night of the crime; the other, a photograph of the fresh paint on the porch railing where the burglar had caught hold with his left hand.

Edward Foster, chief of the police identification bureau of the Dominion of Canada, agreed that there were twenty-five points of identity between the finger prints made of Thomas Jennings in the police station and the prints left by the burglar before he killed Miller.

On the forefinger of the left hand, fourteen points.

On the middle finger of the left hand, eleven points.

On the third finger of the left hand, eleven points.

This was sufficient, in the opinion of the experts, to show that Thomas Jennings was the man who crawled on the porch of the Miller house on the night of the murder.

MONROE (N. Y.), Nov. 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Ferdinand Pinney Earle, artist, poet and dreamer of beautiful dreams, has a new affinity. This time it is the nature and the beautiful autumn tints of the hills and the picture of the hills back of this town.

She comes to him tripping over the mountain side in the golden mornings and together they sit among the sweet fern and scrub oaks in the afternoon, looking across the valley to the blue hills and turquoise sky.

The artist has been living very quietly in the big red-roofed castle, so quietly, in fact, that most of his neighbors thought he had gone to the police court and had been sentenced to the penitentiary.

The matter is that Earle has found a great delight in living quietly at his country place and pursuing his own thoughts and communing daily with the most restful of all soul mates, Nature.

A reporter found Earle in the fields near his home today. He was dressed in a rough outing jacket, strong mountain climbing boots laced up to the knees, and he had a can of color and a paintbrush in his hand. He had been in the fields for some time, painting the landscape.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) After lying unconscious for nearly a week, Mrs. Isabelle Henderson, wife of Theodore A. Henderson, died today at St. John's Hospital. Her collapse, according to her husband, was due to the shock of revealing the methods by which he and his associates are alleged to have made a profit of $1,000,000 from the promotion of the Afterthought Copper Company and its parent enterprise, The Great Western Gold Mining Company.

Henderson and his daughter, Miss Evelyn Henderson, were at Mrs. Henderson's side when she died. D. O. Gibson of Webster Groves, who said that he had been with the Hendersons at the time of the disclosure, thought concerned, stood guard today outside Henderson's room at the hospital and forbade any one to see him. Gibson declared that Miss Henderson was occupied at the "Westminster" hotel.

Owing to Mrs. Henderson's death, no hearing was held today in the receivership suit which was brought against the mining companies and Henderson and his daughter, who are co-defendants in the suit.

The suit was brought by the William A. Stickney Cigar Company. Henderson was the star witness in the previous hearings, and his revelations were the basis of the receivership suit.

Mrs. Henderson became unconscious at the time of the disclosure, and her collapse was reported to a puzzling development of nervous prostration. The doctors declared that the effect of the disclosure was a shock to the system.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) After lying unconscious for nearly a week, Mrs. Isabelle Henderson, wife of Theodore A. Henderson, died today at St. John's Hospital. Her collapse, according to her husband, was due to the shock of revealing the methods by which he and his associates are alleged to have made a profit of $1,000,000 from the promotion of the Afterthought Copper Company and its parent enterprise, The Great Western Gold Mining Company.

Henderson and his daughter, Miss Evelyn Henderson, were at Mrs. Henderson's side when she died. D. O. Gibson of Webster Groves, who said that he had been with the Hendersons at the time of the disclosure, thought concerned, stood guard today outside Henderson's room at the hospital and forbade any one to see him. Gibson declared that Miss Henderson was occupied at the "Westminster" hotel.

Owing to Mrs. Henderson's death, no hearing was held today in the receivership suit which was brought against the mining companies and Henderson and his daughter, who are co-defendants in the suit.

The suit was brought by the William A. Stickney Cigar Company. Henderson was the star witness in the previous hearings, and his revelations were the basis of the receivership suit.

Mrs. Henderson became unconscious at the time of the disclosure, and her collapse was reported to a puzzling development of nervous prostration. The doctors declared that the effect of the disclosure was a shock to the system.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Rev. Dr. Norman Platts, former president of the Washburn College, Topeka, Kan., and until two months ago, the head of Redemptive Investment Company of this city, which was raided by the Government last month, surrendered to the Federal authorities today and pleaded not guilty to a warrant charging him with the use of the mails in a scheme to defraud. Platts crossed the continent from Victoria, B. C., to face the charges.

The Redemptive Investment Company was organized three years ago by Platts and several of his friends and it was stated that the company held a controlling interest in several mining and lumber properties in the West.

During his career as State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Rhode Island Platts was tried on a charge of blackmail but the jury disagreed. He went to Kansas shortly afterward.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER.
The last meeting of the campaign was held last night at San Pedro where Capt. Fredericks addressed a meeting of citizens by special invitation.

A meeting was held at the Soldiers' Home yesterday afternoon at which Lee C. Gales was the principal speaker. The chief business of the day was the organization of the small army of field workers who will be on duty to-day on the highways by word of mouth, to urge the voters to vote for the Republican ticket.

All the political headquarters will collect returns three or four times during the night.

One was a former political boss in the North whose stronghold was the labor vote. One was a former Republican leader of great prominence before Linsner captured the works; the third was a judge, now on the bench. The old labor great told us that he had been down to "mix with the boys" at the Labor Temple and "to get the drops."

He says that the attempt of the Record and of Woolwine to stir up the union men against Fredericks on account of Earl Rogers has failed.

He thinks that most of the union men will support Bull and Spelacy and that Earl Rogers has failed.

The former Republican leader expressed the belief that John and Fredericks will get a large vote in the North. He said that the entire ticket of Republican candidates for Superior Court will be elected.

Gin is one of the oldest known remedies for kidney and bladder troubles, especially when used in the following formula: "Six ounces pure gin; half ounce fluid extract Sassa; half ounce Murax compound. Any druggist can supply or mix these ingredients. Shake well each time and take in doses of one to two teaspoonsful after meals."

This is the most effective remedy known for the quick relief of kidney and bladder disorders. Such symptoms as backache, frequent or highly colored urine, rheumatic pains in the groin ought to have prompt attention to prevent Bright's disease or diabetes.

WHIRLWIND FINISH.
It was rush, stop, about, break through and away again all the length of the town. In order to fill his numerous engagements, the colonel and his party had to whirl through the crowded streets of the East Side at forty miles an hour.

The tour began at Stuyvesant Park, on the lower East Side. The colonel, accompanied that he was in Tammany's stronghold, and struck out for the enemy.

"They've got the money," he said, "and Tammany Hall, but we have the votes. We're fighting your battle, but we can't win unless you fight your own. We're fighting your battle, but we can't win unless you fight your own."

Tammany Hall, backed up by all the money it wishes, but we can win with the votes of the plain people.

"I regret that I do not speak your beautiful language," the colonel told an Italian audience further up town, "but I understand it," and to prove his point, he repeated in English the speech of presentation.

From the Italian quarter, the scene shifted to the negro Baptist Church. The colonel reminded his audience of many appointments to positions of trust he had made among men of their race, and solicited in return their trust in this campaign.

The Manhattan tour ended at Jefferson Park, in the Bronx, where he made his prophecy about the "razzle."

From there he hurried to Astoria, L. I., to speak for Representative Cocks.

The colonel's speech at the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was principally notable for his reference to President Taft, as "our able, upright and conscientious President."

To Move Out Before the March of Toys

The advancing of Christmas is of unusual advantage at the Broadway in that toys and dolls demand adequate space in our third floor North Room, therefore forcing out certain lines of merchandise at ridiculous clearance prices. Domestic and wash goods stocks must be greatly reduced. These lines are to be moved to the third floor Annex, South Room. Our Bedding Department now occupies the Annex, and it must be likewise reduced and be crowded into smaller quarters. Effective prices are the outcome. Quick clearance—the action. Profit by these prices today.

A LIFETIME OF DISFIGUREMENT
Mothers Should Realize What Suffering Of Skin Troubles May Mean To Children.

A lifetime of disfigurement and suffering often results from the neglect of infancy or childhood, of minor eruptions of the skin and scalp. A little or overlooks a little rash or itching, some simple treatment and in a day or two, the little one is cured of all severe eczema or other skin ailments. Then the struggle for a cure begins.

A multitude of remedies are tried, doctor after doctor consulted and medicine prescribed, but too often the suffering extends, without substantial relief, from days to weeks, weeks to months and months to years. Added to this is the ever-present fear that the itching, burning and disfigurement will become chronic, marring future welfare, making life miserable.

In the prevention of the simple skin affections from which all suffer, suffering so often arises, and in establishing a condition of skin health, mothers are assured that nothing is better, sweeter or more effective than Cuticura soap, assisted by Cuticura ointment. And greater still, if possible, is the success of these simple household remedies in the treatment of the severer skin troubles themselves. With the first warm bath with Cuticura soap and gentle application of Cuticura ointment, the itching and burning usually cease, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests for the first time, possibly in many weeks, peace falls on a distracted household. Frequently a single cake of Cuticura soap and box of Cuticura ointment are sufficient.

HORAN WINS GRAND PRIZE.

Cuts Off Nearly An Hour From the Record.

Driver Receives Big Slice of Purse Money.

Simplex Number Thirteen Is Day's Hoodoo.

ATLANTA, Nov. 7.—(Associated Press Night Report.)—The 25th annual Simplex race, which was the first of the season, was held here today. The race was won by Horan, who cut off nearly an hour from the record. He received a big slice of the purse money. The Simplex number thirteen was the day's hoodoo.

The No. 13, carried by R. J. Church's Simplex, is held responsible by some drivers not only for Church's ill luck, but also for the many accidents that have occurred. As car No. 13 swept up with the leaders in the first 25 miles, many of the other cars immediately began to suffer from engine troubles, and had to be stopped at the repair pits. Then No. 13 blew a tire. This was followed by a popping of tires from the other entries all around the course.

Finally No. 13 jumped the track on the fourth mile, and Louis Diabrow's Pope-Hartford broke down at the same place and was pushed off the course through the same hole in the fence No. 13 had made.

Purman, driving a Marquette-Buick, could not shake off the hoodoo, stopping just nine times with tires ripped off. After his two most dangerous rivals, Harroun and Dawson, had quit the track with engine trouble, Burman began a chase after Horan.

TIRES FLATTEN.
With Burman in striking distance, Biggs stopped with flat tires, but Burman's helpers, for the second time in the afternoon, grabbed up the wrong tire and lost all he had gained. Horan, meanwhile, drove into a safe lead.

Sixteen big cars started in the 25-mile race for all race for the speedway grand prize of $5000. They were off at noon sharp. The track was at its best. Dawson was leading at the 15th mile, having passed Harroun, who had tire trouble. Just after the 18th mile, Burman, who suffered tire trouble, regained third place from Joe Rogers. Time for 150 miles, 2h. 17m. 5.4s.

At 157 miles Burman's wild driving, assisted by engine trouble on both the Marquette and the Pope-Hartford, tore the tires to pieces and put him second, with Joe Horan's Louie leading.

At 159 miles Horan led with Burman three lengths behind. Joe Matson's Simplex was third. Time, 2h. 17m. 5.4s. Dawson quit owing to engine trouble. Harman's also quit, but Burman had cut Horan's lead to less than two miles at the 25-mile mark.

GREATEST FLYING MEET LIKELY IN LOS ANGELES.

LOS ANGELES is to have a big winter aviation meet after all. It negotiations which have been on for some time are now in a position to be brought to a head at a meeting today, are successful as expected.

Lyndine has given up the project for an aviation show and yesterday folded the Aero Club of California that it would do all in its power to aid the latter in conducting a meet.

This simplified matters for the Los Angeles organization and president Twining at once wired for a renewal of the application for a sanction from the National Council of the Aero Club of America, sent last July, and the date undoubtedly will be granted for the middle of January.

TO ESTABLISH A CENTER.
The Carson and Dominguez interests, through C. T. Tullison and C. H. Temple, have been arranging to establish a great aviation center near the field used for the last winter, and negotiations have been conducted with these men with noted aviators in the East for a meet this winter.

The Aero Club also has negotiated with American and American aviators, and today's meeting is successful. These interests will be combined to produce one great meet, the like of which has never been held.

George B. Harrison, a member of the Aero Club of California and representing it as a delegate in the East and also working for the Dominguez interests, is in New York negotiating with Daniel Ludlow, an aviation speaking agent, who is arranging with the big aviators for exhibitions throughout the country, and telegrams from both men

PACES GREAT MILE.

Great Day at the Fair With Autos and Horses—Hordes Filled to the Roof.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—Today it would seem that every automobile in the Territory of Arizona had been gathered in Phoenix, filled with people from every town, here to see the sixth annual Territorial fair. Many of them had been brought to see the finish of the Los Angeles road race, but others came to spend the week.

Two long processions of cars came in last night from Prescott and Tucson and the roads still are filled with motorists. Yet the trains are crowded and the new-comers have to be assisted to find accommodations.

This morning at the fair grounds, a couple of miles northwest of the center of the city, interest centered in the Los Angeles race. The exhibits have all been placed. Generally, there is a much better display than ever before. It was children's day and the grounds were crowded. The weather is faultless.

The grand event of the day was the paced mile of C. H. Duff's Duff's Los Angeles stable, done in 1:59. There is a threat of disqualification owing to the handling of the running mate. The world's startling record of 2:22, held by a Stanford horse, was equaled by Walter, owned by F. H. Holloway of Hemet, Cal. It is expected that this colt will beat the time during the week.

In the Copper State track for a purse of $500, Helen Stiles of Duff's stables, took all three heats in 2:11 3-4, 2:10 3-4, 2:10 1-4. (Other entries: Fair Maiden, Princess Louise.)

Fights Off the On-rushing Starbottle and Wins by Half Length at Lufonia.

LATONIA, Nov. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—Countless runs to form the fourth race at Latonia today, defeating Starbottle and All Red in a driving finish. Countless was off in front and McKee counted the colt along at a merry clip. At the eighth pole, however, Starbottle came with a rush, and the two fought it out the remainder of the way. Countless winning the decision by half a length. Summary: Six furlongs: Boca Grande won, C. H. Patton second, Mark Anthony third; time 1:13 1-4. Six furlongs: Regon won, La Bold second, Jim L. third. Handicap, mile and a sixteenth: Countless won, Starbottle second, All Red third; time 1:48 3-4. Mile and a furlong: Judge Walton won, Sallan second, Medallion third; time 1:44 3-4. WILL TRY AGAIN TO END STRIKE; POLICE QUELL CHICAGO RIOTING.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—A new attempt to bring about peace in the strike of 45,000 garment workers will be made tomorrow or Wednesday. The Executive Committee of the United Garment Workers of America, met today and decided to seek a second meeting with Hart, Schaffner & Marx and attempt to persuade the firm to recognize the union and accede to the "closed shop," banishing non-union employees.

The clothing manufacturers say they will retire from business before they will grant the closed shop, as it is impossible with the inexperienced, drifting and totally irresponsible class of people they are forced to employ. Furthermore, they insist upon having some small part in conducting their own business.

POLICE ROUT RIOTERS.

In the meantime, there was a new outbreak of rioting on the West Side. A number of strikers returned to work and those who remained out, angered by this action, made a demonstration at Jackson boulevard and Florida street that amounted almost to a pitched battle between the crowd and the police.

The bluecoats drove the crowd away repeatedly, but they returned, and the disorder lasted for several hours.

At a mass-meeting in the Red Carriers' Hall the strikers were told that several scores of workers had been out on strikes, had returned to work at the plant of H. M. Marx & Co., and a crowd numbering nearly 1000 went there, blowing horns and whistles and shouting to the garment workers there to quit.

A riot call was sent to the Des-plaines-street station and a squad of reservees attacked the crowd and drove it back amid much disorder.

BRUTE SPITS IN GIRL'S FACE.

Elsewhere on the West Side there was disorder, and in one instance a union picket was arrested for spitting in the face of a girl going to work. He was attacked by several men, but detectives saved him from the mob.

The striking garment workers yesterday forfeited a large amount of public sympathy by the rejection of the arbitration treaty arranged in their behalf by Senator Thomas A. Rickert of their national organization. The agreement did not include the "closed shop."

THE CLOTHING MANUFACTURERS SAY THEY WILL RETIRE FROM BUSINESS BEFORE THEY WILL GRANT THE CLOSED SHOP, AS IT IS IMPOSSIBLE WITH THE INEXPERIENCED, DRIFTING AND TOTALLY IRRESPONSIBLE CLASS OF PEOPLE THEY ARE FORCED TO EMPLOY. FURTHERMORE, THEY INSIST UPON HAVING SOME SMALL PART IN CONDUCTING THEIR OWN BUSINESS.

POLICE ROUT RIOTERS.

In the meantime, there was a new outbreak of rioting on the West Side. A number of strikers returned to work and those who remained out, angered by this action, made a demonstration at Jackson boulevard and Florida street that amounted almost to a pitched battle between the crowd and the police.

The bluecoats drove the crowd away repeatedly, but they returned, and the disorder lasted for several hours.

At a mass-meeting in the Red Carriers' Hall the strikers were told that several scores of workers had been out on strikes, had returned to work at the plant of H. M. Marx & Co., and a crowd numbering nearly 1000 went there, blowing horns and whistles and shouting to the garment workers there to quit.

A riot call was sent to the Des-plaines-street station and a squad of reservees attacked the crowd and drove it back amid much disorder.

BRUTE SPITS IN GIRL'S FACE.

Elsewhere on the West Side there was disorder, and in one instance a union picket was arrested for spitting in the face of a girl going to work. He was attacked by several men, but detectives saved him from the mob.

The striking garment workers yesterday forfeited a large amount of public sympathy by the rejection of the arbitration treaty arranged in their behalf by Senator Thomas A. Rickert of their national organization. The agreement did not include the "closed shop."

THE CLOTHING MANUFACTURERS SAY THEY WILL RETIRE FROM BUSINESS BEFORE THEY WILL GRANT THE CLOSED SHOP, AS IT IS IMPOSSIBLE WITH THE INEXPERIENCED, DRIFTING AND TOTALLY IRRESPONSIBLE CLASS OF PEOPLE THEY ARE FORCED TO EMPLOY. FURTHERMORE, THEY INSIST UPON HAVING SOME SMALL PART IN CONDUCTING THEIR OWN BUSINESS.

SELLS HOTEL HE DOESN'T OWN.

Really Man Is Arrested Charged With a Transaction Which Separates Woman From Considerable Cash—Detective Makes Important Discovery.

L. A. Stewart, a real estate dealer and hotel broker, is in the City Jail in default of $1000 bail, having been arrested last night by Detective James McNamara on a charge of felony embezzlement.

Stewart is charged with having embezzled $5000 from Mrs. Gertrude Noble, formerly an actress, nurse, who broke into the lighted about a month ago when she inherited $50,000 from a wealthy man she nursed in St. Louis.

Stewart is alleged, was attracted by the beauty of Mrs. Noble to some extent, but more particularly by her lavish disregard for the value of money; for it is said that the former named nurse has spent something like $40,000 since her arrival in Los Angeles about three weeks ago.

At any rate, it is asserted, Mrs. Noble was induced by Stewart to purchase from him the Santa Rita Hotel, at Eleventh and Main streets, which he did not own. The purchase price agreed upon was $250,000, to which Mrs. Noble assumed a $250,000 mortgage.

Soon after this transaction, it appears, Mrs. Noble and her family, Mrs. Noble's attorneys, discovered that she knew no more about the running of a hotel than about the selling of an ass.

The venture was losing money so fast that an investigation was begun.

About this time Detective McNamara appeared on the scene, working on a burglary case. His investigations led him to the house where Mrs. Noble was living, and he became interested, with the result that a warrant was sworn out for Stewart, who was arrested last night.

BE FREE FROM RHEUMATISM

BY KEEPING YOUR BLOOD IN GOOD CONDITION.

Read This Denver Man's Experience

Even If You Are Certain That Your Rheumatism Is Incurable.

The system which is run down through overwork or worry, or debilitated from any cause is in constant danger from an attack of rheumatism.

In rheumatism the blood is always thin. Nobody has ever seen a true case of acute rheumatism in which the blood was rich and red.

A course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills makes rich, red blood and thereby creates a condition of the system in which rheumatism is impossible.

A recently reported cure by this treatment is that Mr. O. N. Jones of No. 3418 West Thirty-first avenue, Denver, Colo. "I was very much run down from overwork," he says, "and rheumatism developed. I had steady pains across the back and at times would get so stiff that I could hardly straighten out. Sometimes the pains would extend down the sciatic nerves of the limbs, then again there would be shooting pains through other parts of my body."

"I kept losing flesh, and could not get a good night's rest. My stomach was in bad condition and I had no desire to eat. All the medicine I took was of little account until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had but little faith in their doing me any good but after taking one box I felt so much better that I sent for more. They absolutely cured me and although my work of mining engineer takes me in the damp and wet a great deal I have never had the rheumatism since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be safe and harmless to the most delicate constitution. They contain no morphine, opium, cocaine, or anything to cause a drug habit. Owing to their blood-building property they are invaluable in the treatment of such diseases as anæmia, green sickness, rheumatism, and the after-effects of fever.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Bank of America Court Placed Some Taylor Property in Charge of Cashier of Local Bank.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 7.—The Superior Court today appointed A. J. Crook, cashier of the First National Bank, receiver of the $10,000 property in this city involved in the maintenance action of Mims v. Taylor against Charles D. Taylor, the former Goldfield millionaire. Mr. Taylor recently sued, asking $2500 a month maintenance. She asserted that Taylor deserted her in Munich, Germany, when she had but a cent in her purse. She alleged she had heard nothing of him since that time, that he has hidden himself to avoid his responsibilities as a husband, that her only opportunity to receive maintenance as things now stand is through placing the property here in the hands of a receiver. All of this property was owned by Taylor to Russell T. Joy, a Nevada mining friend, after the Munich desertion, and Joy deeded it to his daughter, Edith Warburton, Joy of New York City. Taylor had no legal representative in court today.

Marriage license: James D. Wallace, 24, of Alameda; and Fannie B. Smith, 24, of Santa Ana; Chester W. Curtis, 22, of Colton; and Eva J. Copeland, 22, of Trinidad; Austin T. Brown, 22, and Ida H. Krohn, 22, both of Los Angeles.

Fraser Able to Fix Date for the Opening of His New Ocean Park Enterprise.

OCEAN PARK, Nov. 7.—Plans have progressed so satisfactorily in the construction of Fraser's $1,000,000 pier and amusement enterprise on the ocean beach between Pier avenue and Marine street, that the date for formal opening has been fixed for the first Sunday of next June. From this date forward every energy of the builders will be expended in completing the structure.

It is expected that the $200,000 square feet of floor space of the pier completed by Feb. 1 and ready for the contractors who are to have charge of the superstructure, will give them four full months in which to carry out their plans. However, as the pier is placed in position that section of the structure will be ready for the builders, with the exception of the theater, scenic railway, revolving cafe and numerous other buildings which will be well on the way to completion.

Contracts with concessionaires are being closed every day for attractions of a high class. Each of these requires its own special building, and the architectural plans provide that every structure shall be so designed as to blend harmoniously with the conception as a whole.

WHITE SISTER UNCONVINCING.

PLAQUEAU CAST AND IT WOULD BE SUPERB.

and Entertaining Program of "The Three Tunes" Work at the Mason-Beulah Continues—Los Angeles and Pantages Programs.

Everything about "The White Sister" except the play, F. Marion Mason's last work is probably as good as any of his stage attempts. In fact, but none of them will bear comparison with it. The story of "The White Sister" relates the story of a woman who was not a nun until she found her lover had been killed in Africa. She then came to Europe and since she had no pay, the lover of course was a poor fellow. The story is a very old one, but it is told in a new and convincing manner. The play is a very good one, and it is well acted. The cast is very good, and the production is very fine. The play is a very good one, and it is well acted. The cast is very good, and the production is very fine.

proved the potent magnet that attracted unusually large crowds to Pantages' new theater. Miss Pollard was a welcome favorite with local theater goers, and that she was warmly remembered was proven when she made her appearance last night in her vehicle for vaudeville entitled "A Doll's House." Flowers in profusion went over the footlights, and the impulsive little artist had hard work to voice her thanks and appreciation. "A Doll's House" is a condensed version of "The Toy Maker," and whoever adapted it for vaudeville purposes deserves considerable credit. There is a supporting cast of seven persons and, of course, the best portions of the musical score have been retained. As "Lena Johanna," the daughter of the "Toy Maker," Miss Pollard was bubbling over with animation. Her impersonation of the mechanical doll gained her round after round of applause.

Equal in importance with Miss Pollard, only in another line of the variety, is Mr. Allen Shaw, known as "The King of Coins." This much traveled globe trotter provided a veritable wizard with his experiments and manipulation of cards and coins. Mr. Shaw has much in his favor with his excellent appearance and intelligent chatty talk.

Joe Haskins and Miss Dorothy Graham, tenor and soprano, rendered selections from various grand and comic operas. They have excellent voices which show careful cultivation and training.

Miss Camille's miniature dog circus and the Variety Trio in a mélange of mirth and melody proved acceptable acts for vaudeville, and the new pictures shown by the Biograph proved the usual welcome feature.

The Orpheum opened a new program of interesting vaudeville acts yesterday. More attention will be given the bill in tomorrow's issue. Tom Myers, well-known theatrically here in former days, is back in town as advertising manager of Pantages theater. It is reported incidentally that local manager J. A. Johnson will go to Portland to build a new house for the circuit, and that Mr. Myers will succeed him in charge of the house here.

H. J. Matthews, who has a signature resembling a celestial laundry check, is in town promulgating the gospel of "The Fortune Hunter," which is to appear at the Mason Opera-house next week. One of the principal attractions at the joint benefit to be given by the Theatrical Mechanical Association and the Theatrical Managers' Association December 2, will be William Faversham, who will be at the Majestic Theater that week, in his new play "The World and His Wife." Mr. Faversham is in Portland at present, and a telegram has been sent to him asking if he will contribute an act from his play, or some dramatic sketch to the big benefit programme. The Peris Hartman company will provide an act from one of their brilliant comedies, and there will be high-class vaudeville from the Orpheum, Los Angeles and Pantages. Although it is too far ahead to announce the Burbank plans definitely, Manager Morosco's stock company is going to stage "The Grand Army Man" soon, and it is probable that an act from this big Belasco-Warfield success will have a place on the bill. L. E. Behrmer will have several high-class attractions in the city the same week, and he is communicating with his stars to ascertain which ones can be depended upon to aid in the good cause.

When "The City" comes to the Majestic Theater next week it will be for a visit of eight nights and two matinees. It opens Sunday night, and as it is followed by Mrs. Nazimova, the never plays on Sunday. "The City" draws the extra performance. James Hutton, business manager for the Viola Allen Company, has got back his treasured portfolio and it was the paragraph in the Times Saturday that did the work. The finder did not realize the value of the little leather folder until he read of its grand opera associations, when he promptly returned it.

After delighting crowded audiences at the Belasco for two solid weeks, Clyde Fitch's farce, "The Blue Mouse," still continues to be popular, and last night opened its third week to another capacity audience. Eleanor Gordon as the temperamental Paulette Divine, Lewis R. Stone as the sedate and somber secretary, together with Frank Camp and others of the company, are scoring new triumphs.

Tonight's performance of "The Blue Mouse" is another benefit for the Los Angeles mail carriers.

Jacques Kruger, the aged actor, who was killed at Detroit on Saturday by a fall from the flies to the stage, will be remembered as a member of the Belasco company for a considerable time. Mr. Kruger was one of the cast that tried hard to "put over" the unlamented "Muller's Life Insurance."

LAST NIGHT'S MUSIC.
Pepto Arriola Returns At Simpson. "Tales" Entertains Audience at Auditorium.

After the perusal of a Pepto Arriola programme, one is astonished that a person of his tender years—he is only 15—could attempt to execute such weighty numbers. There is no doubt that this child is a genius, and many a virtuoso of mature years could not give a finer rendition of the classics than does young Pepto. He is not the infant prodigy forced upon us for our purposes; he has none of the artificiality of such a person. His playing is that of the mature artist; still, he possesses the freshness and nature of the child of his tender age. When a boy of four he was a musical prodigy, and appeared before the crowned heads of Europe executing the works of Chopin, Beethoven, Liszt and others. Young Arriola is an image of Mozart. At his age was such a perfect, former; he was of the same sweet, lovable nature as that of the boy genius now entertaining us with his brilliant piano playing. He should be heard to fully appreciate his mastery of the piano. Arriola will play again in Simpson Auditorium next larger audience will greet him than it has in attendance last night. Arriola's programme numbers were: Sonata, Op. 54 (Waldstein), Allegro son. brlo, Adagio Molto, Allegretto Moderato, Beethoven, Intermission, Nocturne, Op. 9, No. 1, Preludes, Op. 28, Op. 29, No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, No. 4, No. 5, No. 6, No. 7, No. 8, No. 9, No. 10, No. 11, No. 12, No. 13, No. 14, No. 15, No. 16, No. 17, No. 18, No. 19, No. 20, No. 21, No. 22, No. 23, No. 24, No. 25, No. 26, No. 27, No. 28, No. 29, No. 30, No. 31, No. 32, No. 33, No. 34, No. 35, No. 36, No. 37, No. 38, No. 39, No. 40, No. 41, No. 42, No. 43, No. 44, No. 45, No. 46, No. 47, No. 48, No. 49, No. 50, No. 51, No. 52, No. 53, No. 54, No. 55, No. 56, No. 57, No. 58, No. 59, No. 60, No. 61, No. 62, No. 63, No. 64, No. 65, No. 66, No. 67, No. 68, No. 69, No. 70, No. 71, No. 72, No. 73, No. 74, No. 75, No. 76, No. 77, No. 78, No. 79, No. 80, No. 81, No. 82, No. 83, No. 84, No. 85, No. 86, No. 87, No. 88, No. 89, No. 90, No. 91, No. 92, No. 93, No. 94, No. 95, No. 96, No. 97, No. 98, No. 99, No. 100.

The sweet cry of Offenbach's music was poured over a large audience at the Auditorium Theater last night when the Beulah Opera Company told "The Love Tales of Hoffman." Offenbach is sentimental enough, and not too pathetic to successfully seduce the American opera-goer. "The Love Tales of Hoffman" have not the pathos of the Verdi-Donizetti-Rossi Italian school; and, while they lack the virility of "Orpheus in Underwelt," they have become more popular in America than any of Offenbach's other works. Los Angeles has seen several presentations, many of them excellent, of the "Tales," but, with the exception of the settings, the Beulah troupe is far away the best for the money seen here.

Miss Regina's clear and mellow contralto soprano had unusual opportunity with Offenbach's musical lyrics to portray the subtle qualities.

Only an occasional lack of liquidity marred what was otherwise a remarkable singing. She is an actress as well as a singer, and in last night's performance did some clever and dramatic work. Although Vicario had stellar eminence in the "Love Tales," Alberti did some very noticeable singing. His knowledge of stagecraft and his ability to get his part over the footlights, compensated for what he was deficient in vocally. He displayed his control of temperament, however, by refusing to attempt anything vocally pyrotechnic or volitional. As in his other roles, he was content with clean, straight-away singing. His ability to carry through his parts without either over or under acting supplemented his singing admirably, and resulted in his performance being markedly successful.

I have already commented on the youthfulness and vivacity of the chorus. If possible, my admiration was increased by last night's performance. Though the choral requirements were not as large as those of the other operas the Beulah troupe have given us, the men and women nevertheless did splendid work, keeping (with but one or two exceptions) to pitch. Their costuming also was tasteful.

I suppose it is asking too much that everything should be the best when one considers the many changes of programme and the price of admission, but the settings were not in keeping with the merits of the rest of the presentation. The prologue scene and the Venice setting were good. But it seems incredible that the defiantly green settee and the weird portraits of act two and four should have been allowed.

DICKINSON IS BACK.
Secretary of War Flew in Aeroplanes in France and Wants United States to Have Some.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The around-the-world tour of Jacob Dickinson, Secretary of War, came to an end today with the arrival here of the Secretary and his party from Europe. Secretary Dickinson, with Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, Chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs, Capt. Henry Cootes, the secretary, and Mrs. Dickinson and Mrs. Cootes and children, were arrivals on the steamship Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm. Secretary Dickinson apparently had the sensation of his trip. I visited the French military aviation camp at Châlons and made three flights in aeroplanes, he said. "I was up for more than half an hour and the pilot drove his machine at nearly a mile a minute. The sensation was superb."

"I made two other short flights in military aeroplanes and was particularly struck by the command the pilots had over their machines, even when carrying a passenger."

"I am greatly impressed by their military value and shall urge their adoption in the United States army."

Woman to impersonate the dead actress, could they be prosecuted criminally?" asked the reporter. "No, they couldn't do a thing with them," answered Cantwell. "How did you meet Tobin?" asked the reporter for the fourth time. Curley was caught napping and answered: "I first met him through Bob's dad."

"Look out, Jack; that fellow is cracking your life's blood," warned Cantwell.

"Why should he allow her husband so close to the gallows before proving herself alive?" asked the reporter.

POSTED ON CONDITIONS.
"Revenge," replied Cantwell. "But we have records of stranger cases than that. Say, do you know that our police records show that in Chicago alone, 1500 people disappear every year and are never heard from?"

"But she is criminally responsible if she is aiding in placing an innocent man on the gallows," said the reporter. "If they don't hang Crippen they have nothing on her," interposed Curley.

"Oh, yes, for she would be guilty of conspiracy to convict, and the only thing that would save her would be mental aberration," answered Cantwell. "I believe she will turn up with a mental defect. She was first heard of in San Francisco, but no attention was paid to her, and then, I am told, she came to Chicago, and Tobin has four excellent affidavits to prove her identity."

"Come on, now, fellows, you see I'm wise. Tell the truth," suggested the reporter. "Didn't you folks concert a scheme a couple of weeks ago to have an English woman impersonate Belle Elmore, and hasn't she been trained to withstand the severest cross-examination regarding the minutest details of the entire case? Hasn't she been taught the songs and dances of Belle Elmore and hasn't she copied her dress?"

"GOAT" IS CAPTURED.
"Damn you, Jack, can't you keep a straight face?" This fellow has your goat," cautioned Cantwell. "Belle Elmore didn't dance. She sang and did pantomime character sketches," said Curley.

"Keep me out of it," cautioned Cantwell at this point. Finally Curley started and then Cantwell tried to become serious and said: "Tobin, I honestly believe, will produce Belle Elmore. He went from his home in Philadelphia to Washington this morning and he ought to be in Chicago tonight. He has four excellent affidavits."

"Perhaps these affidavits merely show that the persons making them saw a woman claiming to be Belle Elmore," suggested the reporter. "Well, I don't know, but my idea is she will turn up suffering from some mental trouble. She may be out on State street now, I cannot tell you."

EXECUTION POSTPONED.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
LONDON, Nov. 7.—It was officially announced today that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, would not be executed tomorrow, as originally arranged, for the reason that the law provides that two weeks must lapse between the dismissal of an appeal and the carrying out of the sentence. November 23 has been fixed upon as the date of the execution.

JUAREZ SCORES RING ORGIES.

Distinguished Mexican Gives Lie to Smugglers.

Draws Line Between Heroism
and Sensation.

Schools, Not Bull Fights, He Says, Are Needed.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1.—Much argument that is animated, if not heated, has in Mexico followed the recent address delivered in Washington before the International Humanitarian Congress by Congressman Benito Juarez, son of the late President Juarez, of Mexico, who inveighed with impassioned eloquence against the building of a brutal and cruel institution of barbarism.

Incidentally, the circumstance given the lie to the parvenu muckrakers who have written the most sensational articles in the United States in the futile attempt to create the impression that Mexico is a republic only in name, in reality ruled by the mailed hand of tyranny; because, as is known throughout Mexico, there are men high in Mexican official life who offer actual bullfights and on certain gala and semi-state occasions President Diaz, himself, occupies the box of honor at such functions. Congressman Juarez has proved to the national character the reality of freedom of opinion and speech in Mexico. There follow some paragraphs selected from his address:

"To your noble and great labor I join mine. I join you, however, not in the faith and enthusiasm I bring hither when I can bring, convinced that when you called me you did so not on account of any merits of mine, for I have none; but that you, inviting me to come, and I agreeing to come, we consider homage to the memory of my dear-forgotten father, who, without his love for humanity by suppressing and abolishing bullfights, he had shed the cruel spectacle of bullfighting during the period of his incumbency."

"About that question I want to speak to you; about those tenets unworthy of men. There are men in this twentieth century who are in the grade of men who made those who made those men and used fashions as we see them; that those who have been their first admirers by wearing their coats and suspending from them the ends of the ocean. In those times men and beasts struggled together in the forests of the mountains, the beast to hunt and kill his food and the right to live forced man to self-defense to play the beast that attacked him."

"Then the death struggle of man and beast was necessary, but fatal for its weakening of man's faculties in the human breast. The son of woman, born with a mild disposition and righteous instinct, gradually became domestic and cruel. Centuries passed, civilization and enlightenment, higher education and culture, have worked miracles for the human race, but have not eliminated the brute, the worst man has in man."

"When the love for our fellow-beings and all living creatures is supplanted by cruelty; when we observe not merely indifference but actual pleasure revealed upon the countenances of spectators at the scene of evil and animal agony; when the torture of dumb animals is customary to men who look upon it, then we can be assured that the people that pleasure is descending had must soon be doomed to perdition."

"It was when Rome was decaying, when it belonged to the Caesars, when it had lost its power, that the world beheld the bloody games of the arena, the roaring of wild beasts, their victims' lamentation, the crushing of bones by the great jaws of the famished carnivores, the maddest yelling of the rabble intoxicated at sight of gore, demanding thumbs down from the arena, the agonizing cries of a great and brave people, which crumbled into dust and soon was but the memory of its former self."

"Such is the fate of a people to whom it is an amusement to behold with rapturous laughter, shrill whistling, noisy plaudits and boisterous cheers the dying agonies of martyred animals. For their machines, martyred men who in the prize ring are suffocated and beaten down by mercenary adversaries, prostitutes to the lust for gold, the cruellest of men. No more bullfights. No more prize fights. We are the friends of humanity."

"And I am confident of such a happy day, when that courage is fostered among witnesses of these spectacles. They dare assert that the actors are brave! They lie."

"Bravery is that of the physician who to save a father, a son or a mother for a daughter or a husband for a wife, or a brother for a sister or a benefactor for the poor, meets death face to face, deliberately risking his own life that others may live."

"Bravery is that of the minister, who stands before the altar, and in the region of contagion and infection with consolation for the dying."

"Bravery is that of the fireman who struggles against the flames and smoke and cheerfully chances his life to save that of a babe."

"Bravery is that of your illustrious, your immortal Lincoln, who abolished slavery and in his abolition knew full well that a fragment of the chains he broke might be mounded into a bullet for his death."

"Bravery is that of the patriot, who, when he is in the truth, that of the man who, with a few loyal patriots, transpired the torch of liberty and, looking about the globe, symbol of freedom, proclaimed that the Mexican Republic was in him embodied."

"In the speeches which I am proposing, gentlemen, there are two victims and a beast. The beast is represented by a national being whom we have agreed to call man, and the victims are two irrational beings, a bull and a horse."

"The bull is foredoomed to die in the ring, tormented almost to the point of death by the spears by the hands of the bandits and by the beating of his persecutors, helpless from fatigue and impotent from pain, at last dispatched by the sword of his master."

"Ah, but the bull at least has a means of self defense, if only for temporary relief, the brief employ, his horns are his weapons. He is wounded and tormented until he kills some one and when he does he kills through legitimate defense."

"But the other, the horse, man's best friend. He has no defense. He enters the ring, he is tormented, he is killed, and he has no means of self defense."

EMMA NEVADA'S DAUGHTER PROMISES TO OUTRIVAL MOTHER

Daughter a Rival to Her Mother.

Special Correspondence of The Times.

Special Correspondence of The Times.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—For mother and daughter to take the mother's part in the same opera is surely a novel idea, and for a family to be proud of it. This is what will be done this season at the Covent Garden Opera-house here, when the famous American singer, Madame Emma Nevada, and her daughter, Miss Nevada, will take the parts of Mignon and her mother in "Mignon."

One other red letter day probably has been brought to the mind of Mignon Nevada lately on account of its pathetic associations. That is the day about two years ago when she sang before the young King of Portugal, who has lately lost his throne. She was engaged to sing at the San Carlos Theatre in Lisbon. The first night was a gala performance, and the first public appearance of Manuel since the assassination of his father and brother. When the young King entered, the whole audience rose to its feet, cheering, laughing and weeping, and the orchestra played the national anthem five times over. After the piece was over—it was "Il Barbiere di Siviglia"—at the King's request—Queen Amalia sent for the young prima donna, received her privately and had a long talk with her. As she was leaving the Queen kissed her and said she hoped she would be successful and as celebrated as her mother, whom the Queen had heard in almost her whole repertoire, adding, with tears in her eyes, "Above all, be happy," the most desired achievement of all probably to the unhappy Queen.

Mignon Nevada sang before she could speak, and indeed has lived in an atmosphere of admiration ever since she was born. All her games and "make-believe" as a child were set to music. Once when out shopping with her mother at the Bon Marche, the big department store in Paris, and forgotten for the moment, she strayed away, and got lost. After a rather lengthy search she was found by her mother, who found her at last in one of the departments, surrounded by the saleswomen, singing, "Kiss me from the land where the cotton blooms."

Her debut—though not her professional one—was made while hardly more than a child at the concert of St. Sebastian when she sang, danced and recited before the royal family there. Her mother, who was a great singer and had written stories and plays, was her first teacher. She went to her former playmate, the King of Spain, when he was beginning to learn English, and the queen-mother said, "Do sing me another story for my son."

To her accomplishments, this clever young lady adds, besides French, Italian and Russian, a knowledge of Spanish, and a talent for the piano. Her mother, who is now a widow, is a very successful singer and has written stories and plays. She went to her former playmate, the King of Spain, when he was beginning to learn English, and the queen-mother said, "Do sing me another story for my son."

IDENTIFYING HORSES

Numbers May Be Branded on Their Hoofs Without Injuring the Animal.

"That is a new one on me," admitted a man who had been contemplating the hoofs of a couple of Irish horses standing on Monroe avenue, says the Detroit Free Press.

The driver, who had just unloaded a heavy crate of merchandise, looked curiously at the creature.

"I mean that way of marking a horse the number on the hoof," continued the driver.

"Oh, the figures," said the driver, smiling. "That isn't anything new. We all do that, you know. Here to prove our horses."

"Do you mean that all horses in Detroit are marked that way?"

"Pretty much all that belong to the big trucking companies are," continued the driver. "You see, each firm has certain numbers it uses—not a mark, like they brand horses in the West, but just plain numbers. You'll see if you take a look that that old horse's number is 27 and the high one is 41. The lowest get together and give on numbers so there won't be any mixup. Then each fellow brands a horse with one of the numbers given them, each horse, of course, being numbered differently, so he can tell in a minute whether a horse is his or somebody else's."

"It's just a case of burning the number into the front of the hoof, but it does the business. Some years ago a concern for which I worked had two horses stolen—yellow drove them away right under the driver's nose. They were both marked, and the thief didn't know this or didn't have sense enough to do anything about it. They traced those horses all about the State, but finally got them where they had been sold by the thief. If it hadn't been for those numbers, though, they probably never would have seen the team again."

"The hoof gets scuffed up so the number has to be renewed. This doesn't mean much work."

"My husband is so gentle and considerate."

"In what way?"

"Why, he wouldn't let me get a vacuum cleaner because it employed exhausted air."—Philadelphia Record.
